RULES:

LEARN THEM, LIVE THEM, LOVE THEM

This quiz covers pop culture fun stuff from 1979 to 2009 because that's the year your host was born and the year it is now.

Teams can be made up of 2 or 3 people. Any more than that and you're cheating. Cheaters!

Of course, we want you to socialize with the other teams. Try trash-talking.

Also counts as cheating:

looking at other people's answers while pretending to stretch, using your phone in any way except to text people that this is the most fun Saturday night ever, reading your host's mind, any sort of bribe, and being smarter than everyone else here.

Also, don't shout out answers, or even say them in an outside voice. As Christian Bale would tell you, it's [redacted] distracting!

There are eight rounds, each about 15 minutes long. We'll collect your booklets every two rounds and grade them with big red pens.

To answer the questions correctly:

you'll often need to pay attention to what's on the speaker or screen, so we warn the nerds out there not to work ahead. We also can't guarantee we'll repeat questions—so pay attention!

Your host has the final say about what's right, and what counts, and who wins. Seriously. No whining.
